ISSUE 4, 30 07 2016

In June 2016 the lead partner ACZ hosted a series of events in the city of Prague, Czech Republic, marking the beginning of the latter half of the project implementation.

Partnership kicked off their busy program in the morning of June 20th by opening a transnational meeting.

Main goals for the meeting were to review progress in preparation of ACE project products and setting up a detailed plan for piloting courses, which will take place in autumn 2016 and winter 2017. Partnership concluded the transnational meeting on the next day of June 21st.

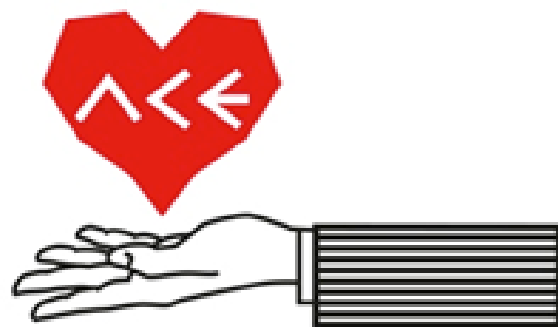

New course modules developed by ACE members will be field-tested in the piloting program in all partnership countries.

Dissemination conference in Prague

In Prague on Wednesday, June 22nd took place first dissemination conference of ACE project.

The common goal is to spread the word about the course and, in the process, get the first course users on the board.

Conference participants learnt about the ACE partnership, about its training products and about their main features. The leading partner of event – ACZ, had invited a wide cross section of stakeholders, potential users of partnership's training products.

Joint staff training event in Prague

The event started on Monday, June 20th and concluded on Friday, June 24th.

During this event future pilot course trainers had a chance to get acquainted both with the structure and the spirit of the course and learnt what innovations had been built into it.

Participants of the event valued highly transnational exchange of experience, which transpired during the event's classes and returned home with a solid confidence in ACE product.

In order to establish a common base for teaching the course across partnership countries, was fitted a week-long joint staff training event in Prague.
